

Feeling anxious lately?

R_x: Take one book and call me in the morning.*

Do today's headlines leave you feeling stressed out and hopeless? Do things seem to be getting worse instead of better? Hey, I even feel that way sometimes. But after years of careful observation, I've concluded that the future is actually very bright! I've written all about it in my new book, a man wearing a dress. So pick one up at your local bookstore, or order one online today. It could be just what the doctor ordered!
